MESSAGE FROM CRITTENDEN.

Ex Governor of Missouri the Author of an Open Letter.

IS FOR BRYAN AND SEAWALL.

Good Reasons Why the Democrats Should Join Hands.

PARTY SHOULD BE SUPPORTED.

(Kansas City Times.)

Misguided Democrats who have been deserting the party on account of the Chicago platform, are being called sharply to task by men who have fought for Jeffersonian principles for a lifetime. The Times has published several letters of this nature recently. Another is herewith given. It is an open letter from Mr. T. T. Crittenden, Ex-Governor of Missouri, and at present Counsel General to Mexico, with headquarters at the City of Mexico. The letter is as follows: Gen. J. O. Shelby, Kansas City, Mo. Mexico, July 25, 1896.—Dear Sir: I have read your published letter of the 18th inst. to Colonel Coffey of Fayetteville, Ark. I think I can write freely to you, as we have been friends for forty years. I am not in full sympathy with the 16 to 1 ratio; my life here having somewhat modified my views on that question, although there are many countries in worse financial condition than "free silver America." In some respects I dislike the Chicago platform as much as you do, yet there is a way to correct it, and we should await "the man and the hour." It looks to me that Mr. Bryan is slowly and prudently moving in that direction, and if left alone, will divest it, by his personality and speeches, of many of its objectionable features.

Rome was not built in a day, and I was slowly reformed after it was built. I do not see the danger in Mr. Bryan and his friends. I think you are unnecessarily alarmed on certain planks in the platform. The abuse of Mr. Cleveland was certainly out of place in a Democratic convention by men claiming to be Democrats, yet leaders and reformers have been abused in all ages, in all nations, by men who are more valuable than thoughtless. Some of our own leaders in Missouri have led on the dance with marvelous alacrity and embittered tongue. Would it not be well to encourage charity and fidelity at home before bolting from the ranks of a party in which you have served so long and which has honored you so highly? If your course is logically pursued, bolting will follow all along the line, for there is not one man who will be nominated for a State office by the Democratic party of Missouri, who has not poured his "vials of wrath" on the President's head. Let us be true to all or false to all, not making cures of one and idols of the others. Some, it may be many, are justifying their right to bolt on the ground that Bryan declared in Alabama in 1895 that he would not support "a gold standard candidate on a gold standard platform." What if he did say this? It was a hasty speech, the cause of which I know not, how provoked or under what frenzy it was uttered, and if wrong then, how can it be made right by repetition of that action by another? Two wrongs never make a right. Who is there, who has not at some time talked too much? Jephtha's vow made him a murderer, and an eternal excommunicant against a foolish remark. Such vows are "more honored in the breach than observance." Measure a man by his quiet acts, his quiet words, rather than by heated actions and inflated oratory.

The supreme court of the United States is not in so much danger from inconsiderate attacks of a convention as from the more insidious one of appointing men to that eminent "wool sack" for special purposes and covert reasons, or from judges on that bench strangely changing their opinions between the rising and the setting of the sun. The plank in the Democratic platform is not a brutal fulmen in attacking that venerable body, for it will, in my opinion, cause one or more of the judges to be more thoughtful in the future upon delivering their opinions upon great public questions. We must not expect, at all times, carefully weighed and well measured words from these public conventions; conventions are at times like volcanoes in action. At the most unexpected moment they become explosive.

It won't do to desert a political party because there are hasty and inconsiderate people in it. The personnel of the Chicago convention was unquestionable; many of them our personal friends; many old gray-headed men, whose faith and hope are in the preservation of the government and the Democratic party. They believe in the policy of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, and since they constituted a majority they had a right to control. That is Democratic and we should "take our medicine" like good soldiers and partisans.

No one man, even if he is President and commander-in-chief of the army and navy, no one party, can overturn the Supreme court of the United States, or even do it violence, without creating a second rebellion in this country greater than the first. I am by nature a very conservative man, and may not see things hidden from sight as clearly as you do. I think there is much sheet lightning in the hot words heard on every street corner about the dangers contained in the declaration of the convention against the Supreme court, and in Mr. Bryan's declaration of the convention against the Supreme court, and in Mr. Bryan's declaration of the convention against the Supreme court, and in Mr. Bryan's declaration of the convention against the Supreme court.

No, general; he is an earnest man; he is a tried, true, patriotic, safe and honest man. No partisan has uttered one word against the man's moral and private character. He is a Democrat, as you and I are, and if elected would give the country a safe, economical, and old-fashioned administration, with plain ways and plain customs, having grace at every meal and family prayers at the beginning and close of each day. There is no danger in such a man. His wife and children are the guardians of his conduct, and the tenderest objects of his love. Their home is our home; their country is our country; their peace and preservation is our peace and preservation. He is gentle and kind, with not a flaw in his private or domestic life; reared in an old-fashioned home by an old-fashioned Democratic father, by a Christian mother, in an old-fashioned Democratic community, where law and order were the rule, and "where kind words were more than comets."

And simple faith than Norman blood? Bryan should correct the mistake made by the Chicago convention, in its abuse of the present administration as soon as possible, and give praise to whom praise is due, and render to Caesar those honorable things which rightfully belong to him. He has the nerve, the sense of justice, and the manhood to do it unless I am greatly mistaken in the man. For such conduct the Democratic convention was more responsible than was the Republican party for the personal and official attacks made upon the President by the St. Louis convention. Those attacks were conceived in malignity, and were born in low politics and hatred, because he had defeated the G. O. P. twice; broken his hold upon the Treasury and the Government, and had arisen from humble manhood to a sublime, historic character, and because he stands head and shoulders above his accusers. I am well acquainted with Governor McKinley, and from the loftiness of his character, I do not think he will ever give emphasis and dignity to such attacks. I think all such prominent men as the leaders of the Democratic party in Missouri should be slow in playing into the hands of and "giving aid and comfort to the enemy." It will be wise to remain quiet for the time being and to ponder well the consequences of the step before rushing pell mell into the Republican party. It would be well for our Democratic friends to ponder the following words from Judge Sam Priest of St. Louis, in a recent letter to his brother.

"In forming our judgment we are entitled to, and ought to take into account, the past actions and declarations of a party as well as its present. (Referring to the Republican party.) The former affords a means of interpreting the latter and discerning its disposition. From this view I find much of hope in the Democracy, but little in Republicanism; the former has sometimes been extravagant in speech, but always conservative in action and counsel."

You and I owe much to the old party. Because a majority of our fellow Democrats have given us a platform which is not to our taste, that is no reason why we should play the coward and flee in the presence of a common enemy. What harm can Bryan do the country upon such a platform if elected? None! none! none! He is not a Cataline; he is not a Boulanger. He is plain, old-fashioned Presbyterian; trained in all the lessons of conservatism and dignity, and will not violate the ark of the covenant as the teachings of the constitution. Should he be elected the very chair of State, hallowed by patriotic association, would cry out against every movement, every action, that would be hurtful to the judiciary and financial system of the fathers.

I may find certain features of the platform, but not the man and the President. The nomination of Bryan has not been without its force and good results already. In one of our late dailies there is a significant notice that the banks of New York "had begun to deposit at the sub-Treasury in large sums for the purpose of protecting it from the cowardly raids of guerrillas and coyotes in speculation on their country's condition." This shows that the danger signal held out for months in New York by those banks had been more to intimidate than to forecast the real facts. Banks, like the gold within their vaults, are great cowards in time of danger. The government should never be a slave to any class, a victim and plaything to any band of men, on Wall Street, New York, or Lombard Street, London.

I do not apprehend as much danger silver as the gold extremists indicate. I am, it is true, a baby in swaddling clothes in finance, and may not have the power of seeing through the millstone. If let alone the relations between gold and silver will sooner or later adjust themselves. The supply of gold for the last year has reached, throughout the world the unprecedented yield of $230,000,000. This sum should be able to take care of itself in the battle with silver. It has been predicted by careful observers and students of the currency that if gold goes on being extracted at that rate the tendency of gold and silver will be nearer each other, and more dependent upon each other. Gold and silver each have had their up and down in the past, and if left alone by the manipulators may again become the dual coins of the world's commerce.

The trial for the financial existence of a government has to come some day, as it had to come in blood for its preservation as a union of States, and it might as well come now as in the future. The longer it is postponed the greater will be the hold of the controllers of the gold balances upon the government, and the more dependent will the government become and the weaker will the people be to make the contest. All that any patriotic could say to Bryan and Sewall if they entered the great fight upon the questions that enter into the campaign, provided they should be elected, is:

"Woodman, spare that tree! Touch not a single bough. In youth it sheltered me, And I'll protect it now."

My impression is those gentlemen will as safely guard the great trust confided to them as have Lincoln, Grant and Cleveland in the past. I am aware that Mr. Bryan has been called, time and again, an anarchist, which is a foolish and untenable in my opinion, as the charges made in the past against Mr. Jefferson, who was as frequently charged with being an anarchist by the Federalists, when he launched the Democratic party into existence, as Bryan is now by the glib-tongued orators and papers of the day. Even some of the old women, the old Puritan mothers were so alarmed by the charges of infidelity made against Mr. Jefferson that they concealed their old treasured family bibles in wells. In order to escape his destructive grasp, will not do to believe everything you hear and see these days, especially in politics, from either side or against either side.

Mr. Bryan has the crime charged against him of being a young man. Those making the charge forget that Alexander Hamilton was famous at 25; Jefferson was great at 33, at which age he wrote the Declaration of Independence; Madison was prominent at 28, and Monroe was a historic character at 30. So the charge of youthfulness is a foolish one. In a nation of young men, as John Russell Young said in a letter to the New York Herald of July 19, "it is dangerous to assail a candidate because of his years. Bryan is a young man of great ability and force of character."

In this canvas there is no middle ground; it is either McKinley or Bryan for the Presidency. They represent extreme ideas on certain questions, and each is the antithesis of the other as a politician. The intensity of the canvass, the freedom from personal abuse, which is commendable, will burn out any third party if it is in the field; leaving only a few old stock actors beating the air. Bryan and "his crazy" as they derisively call it, will sweep over them as a cyclone does a country village, leaving a head here, a leg yonder, and an old theory in mid-air. Men, whether Democrats or Republicans, should be brave enough and true enough to vote for either McKinley or Bryan, and not dodge the question by any third party movement in the name of Democracy. There is no room for a third party in this great national canvass. "Name will be so poor as to do it reverence" during or after the real battle. In a quiet and conservative way, my dear general, I have written to you as an old friend of forty years standing. Within that time you wandered off for four years after a dream and after a shadow, under the noblest impulse that ever inspired a brave, true man, and now let me entreat you not to wander again into the wilderness of unrest and uncertainty for four years.

In making this request I know I am writing in the face of what you have already said. From a long personal knowledge of you, I know you never retreat after having once taken your stand, from a principle or from a battle field, unless convinced that you are in error or driven by dominant forces. The old home with which you are so familiar, and the old friends, are best. In reading between the lines I do not see that you have left the ranks of your own party, except on certain conditions. I do not think those conditions will be of any character as to force you from your old Democratic home and from your old associates. It is no easy matter to leave your old party ranks, but when done, it is far more difficult to return than to depart. If I believed that Bryan and the Democratic party meant harm to our form of government, to any one of its co-ordinate branches, or to the high financial standing of government, I would not hesitate one moment in deserting them. But as I fear no such danger from their election, I shall give Bryan and Sewall my earnest support.

Very truly your friend,
THOS. T. CRITTENDEN.

To the Readers of the Advocate:

For reasons of a private nature and that are entirely disconnected with the business of the paper, I have this day sold my interest in THE ADVOCATE to Mr. Bruce W. Trimble, a gentleman in every way worthy the confidence and esteem of its readers. Mr. J. W. Hedden, with whom I have been associated for the past five years, will continue his connection with the paper and together with Mr. Trimble will see that it loses nothing by the change.

I ask for these gentlemen a continuation of the generous support extended to THE ADVOCATE in the past.

Mr. Hedden is a true Democrat and a patriotic citizen who does not stop to see if there is personal gain in it, when he can do ought to further the interest of his party or advancement of his section. He has sacrificed much of personal interest for the good of both his party and his people in the past; he will not hesitate to do as much in the future.

The writer does not have to tell this people that Mr. Trimble is a gentleman, whose most prominent characteristic is faithfulness, and that whatever his hand finds to do, he does with all his might. He is equipped both by education and taste for the work he has undertaken, and experience will soon make him a power in the State press. Mr. Trimble has a wide acquaintance throughout a large part of the State, gained during his work as a minister of the Gospel, and all who know him fully appreciate the true worth of the man.

In the hands of two such men and circulating among so generous and appreciative a people as ours, THE ADVOCATE cannot fail of continued success.

I should be utterly lacking in gratitude if I did not express my full appreciation of the cordial kindness I have uniformly received at the hands of this people, and if my business and social relations with them are to close, it will be not choice on my part, but sheer necessity, that orders it.

Gratefully,

C. W. HARRIS.

August 11, 1896.

Dr. C. W. Harris' connection with THE ADVOCATE commences with this issue, having sold his interest to Mr. B. W. Trimble. I will not take advantage of this occasion to throw bouquets. It could be done in three profusion. As a man of courage, one who will bear his part of burdens and responsibilities, a smooth and pleasing writer, his superior is hard to find. Wherever he may go, and into whatever business he may engage, he has the best wishes of the writer and, doubtless, of his many friends as well. Together with him I have been trying to publish a newspaper strictly moral and uplifting in its tone, and, politically, a Democratic journal in strict accordance with party principles and policies. That we have succeeded and our efforts have met with the general approval of the public is evidenced by the large patronage we have received. For this patronage and all courtesies and kindnesses I am profoundly grateful. Here I will take occasion to say that the ADVOCATE will be as it has been; strictly Democratic and at no time be arrogated to its editor's wisdom beyond that of our party. No man is greater than his party, and the party is the majority acting. Directed by this faith the ADVOCATE will always be known.

Mr. Trimble enters upon his duties with this date, and we feel we are to be congratulated that we are associated with another of intelligence, industry and ability adapted to journalistic work. Determined that the ADVOCATE shall grow in power and influence, shall be read and appreciated for its worth, and that its sphere shall increase until it is known in our entire state. I am very respectfully,

J. W. HEDDEN.

Senator Beck on Silver.

Senator James B. Beck, of Kentucky, in a speech before the United States Senate in January, 1878—see page 258, Congressional Record, January, 1878—said:

"I know that the bondholders and monopolists of this country are seeking to destroy all the industries of the people in their greed to enhance the value of their gold. I know that the act of 1873 did more than all else to accomplish that result, and the demonization act of the revised Statutes was an illegal and unconstitutional consummation of the fraud. I want to restore that money to where it was before, and thus aid in preventing the consummation of their design."

The people of Montgomery are in earnest in their determination to roll up for the Democratic ticket a big vote in November. Bryan and Sewall will get the biggest vote ever given in this county. There will be very few men who will go off after the proposed third ticket. So few in fact that it is not worth considering as a factor in the vote cast.

The Boltoctors propose to hold a National Convention at Indianapolis, Ind., September 1. The name they have adopted for their organization is the National Democratic party. They claim they will have a representation from thirty-three states.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

GOLD STANDARD DENOUNCED.

Extract From the Campaign Book of the National League of Republican Clubs, "The Principles and Policies of the Republican Party," Pages 53 and 54.

"There is grave danger in the unqualified adoption of the gold standard. For, as silver has been taken out of Europe's coinage, the demand for gold has enormously grown, and grown in a proportion much greater than the supply. Measuring both metals by the standard of commodities, it is substantially true to say that 'gold has appreciated much more than silver has depreciated.' In the silver-using countries silver will buy almost as much of everything except gold as it would ten or a dozen years ago, and this fact sustains the demand for 'cheaper money.' The advocates of the gold standard allege that the value of gold is intrinsic, and that a certain quantity of gold bullion having a fixed value should be the standard of exchange. This would be all well enough if any one were able to insure that the supply of gold would continually increase in ratio with the increasing demand for it caused by a growing population and commerce. But, as a matter of fact, it is decreasing in that ratio, and therefore a man who ten years ago contracted a debt which might then have been discharged with a thousand bushels of wheat, must to-day pay many more than a thousand bushels to get himself free.

"The meaning of this is clear. The capitalist can increase his wealth by simply converting it into gold, putting it in a vault and holding it idle for a series of years. At the end of ten years it will buy more provisions and more labor than it would when he stored it. As the supply of gold contracts everybody must work harder to get it.

"It is plain that a debtor is entitled to discharge his obligations for a value precisely similar to that he originally obtained. He cannot do this if the money in which his loan is compulsively payable increases between the date of its making and the date of its payment. Measured in gold all obligations have thus increased in a very short period of time. The creditor class enjoys, therefore, a vast advantage over the debtor class. The men who work for a living and who consume their earnings year by year are placed in a most unfair position."—[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Those so-called sound-money Democrats who refused to abide by the action of the Chicago Convention will put a little ticket of their own in the field, which will be called the National Democratic ticket, and ask all who believe in old-time Democracy to follow their banner, and repudiate the regular nominees of the Democratic party.

These disgruntled and disappointed office-seekers and bondholders may blow and blow until their supply of wind is exhausted and not a vote will they get from the people who believe in old-time Democratic principles and the will of the majority. The Democrats of these United States are for Bryan and Sewall and as sure as the sun sets in the direction of the home of the gifted young nominee Democracy and free-silver will win at the polls in November.

Bryan and McKinley represent the two parties, one of which must place its candidate in the White House. The question then resolves itself into a support of one of these two men. Bryan, the Democrat, who represents the silver side of the money question, or McKinley, the Republican, who represents the gold side, and incidentally all that is mean and vile in the Republican party. Those who are not for the Democratic ticket are against it. In going off with any third party a voter is simply giving aid and comfort to the enemy. We repeat, it is Bryan or McKinley. Choose which ye will have.

STARTLING

Are These Figures Showing the Free Silver Sentiment in Indiana.

One of the most powerful organizations in this country is the Farmers' Mutual Benefit Association, which has 100,000 members in the State of Indiana alone. In a letter received by THE ENQUIRER from W. H. Boyle, First Assistant Secretary of the Indiana branch of the great order, he gives over his own signature some startling facts as to the attitude of the voters on the silver question. He says:

"I am certain from the outlook that Bryan and free silver will carry Indiana by from 50,000 to 75,000 majority, and it would not surprise us to see it go to 100,000. Out of 50,000 farmers belonging to our society I find that they stand as follows: Republicans, 27,521; Democrats, 20,318; Populists, 3,100; Prohibitionists, 61. On the money question they stand as follows: For silver, Republicans, 27,023; Democrats, 19,777; Populists, 2,100; Prohibitionists, 31. For gold, Republicans, 428; Democrats, 541; Populists, none; Prohibitionists, 31.

Mr. Boyle expressed the belief that many of those now for gold will be won over before November. This is the most remarkable statement yet made in regard to the silver strength, but is vouched for by the Secretary of an all powerful farmer's organization.

The Work To Begin.

Next Monday County Court-day steps will be taken to form Bryan and Sewall clubs in every precinct in the county. On that day at the Court-house at 2 p. m., the well known orator Hon. Charles J. Bronson, of Lexington will address the people of the county.

Marvelous!

The results attained right here at home have been marvelous. Hundreds of your neighbors who have used Wright's Celery Capsules say so. They cure Kidney, Liver and Stomach trouble, Rheumatism, Constipation and Sick Headaches. Why pay $1 every two weeks for a bottle of medicine when you can get treatment at 1 cent a day. Wright's Celery Capsules give 100 days' treatment for $1.00 backed by a bank, to cure you or refund your money. Sold by W. S. Lloyd Druggist. 43-4t

Nerves

Are the Messengers of Sens.—the Telegraph System of the human body. Nerves extend from the brain to every part of the body and reach every organ. Nerves are like fire—good servants but hard masters. Nerves are fed by the blood and are therefore like it in character. Nerves will not be weak and exhausted if the blood is thin, pale and impure. Nerves will surely be strong and steady if the blood is rich, red and vigorous. Nerves find a true friend in Hood's Sarsaparilla because it makes rich, red blood, does their work naturally and well—the brain is unclouded, there are no neuralgic pains, appetite and digestion are good, when you take

Mr. Lewis Bridgeforth, of Pickens, Mississippi, came Friday to visit his uncle, Wm. Bridgeforth. He reports the cotton crop all through central and northern Mississippi and Tennessee as cut very short by drought, as is also the corn crop. Mr. Bridgeforth says these crops are cut one-half.

The heated term has been most disastrous to life in every section of the country. The Courier Journal of yesterday has reports from many cities of Sunday's death rate, the sum total being 132, New York leading the list with 50. This does not include the prostrations that did not directly result in death.

Bracken Association at Mt. Pisgah Church.

On last Wednesday the Bracken Association of Baptists, of which this church is a member met with the Mt. Pisgah church, Fleming county. There are twenty-six churches in this association and each of them were represented by letters or messengers except three and they are very weak churches without pastors. The contribution to Mission causes were in excess of last year by forty dollars and the contribution to State work was about three times that of last year. This was the ninety-ninth session of the Bracken Association and never at any time was there a more interesting and enthusiastic meeting.

The association was highly entertained by the members of Mt. Pisgah church and the citizens in the surrounding county. The officers elected for the ensuing year were R. B. Yancey, May's Lick, Moderator; J. W. Hodges, Clerk, and W. H. Fritts, Carlisle, Treasurer. The introductory sermon was preached by Rev. Everett Gill of this city, on the "Country Preacher," and the Missionary sermon was preached by Rev. W. E. Mitchell, of Carlisle. These sermons were master efforts full of instruction and every one was very highly elated. Mr. Sterling was represented by Rev. Everett Gill, and wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Donnell, Miss Margaret Dean, Miss Katie Williams, Harry William, John Long, R. A. Thompson, W. R. Nunneley and J. W. Hedden. The association will meet on Wednesday morning the first Sunday in August 1897 with the Lewisburg church at which time the one hundredth anniversary of the association will be celebrated.

Quarterly Meeting.

The Fourth and last Quarterly Meeting for this Conference year will be held at M. E. Church, South, on Saturday and Sunday, August 22 and 23. Presiding Elder, Rev. J. Rand will pay his last official visit to this charge since limitation of the law of the Church requires the appointment of another man to the Presiding Elder's office. Let there be a full attendance of members and other friends at this last visit of Brother Rand, who has been preaching here from time to time as Presiding Elder and pastor for over forty years.

Regina Orme, eldest child and only daughter of Dr. G. N. Cox and wife, is very low with blood poison, as the result of a rusty nail which she stuck in her heel about ten days ago. The little sufferer is some better at this writing and the physicians in charge have some hope of her recovery.

Feed the Nerves

Upon pure, rich blood and you need not fear nervous prostration. Nerves are weak when they are improperly and insufficiently nourished. Pure blood is their proper food, and pure blood comes by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is thus the greatest and best nerve tonic. It also builds up the whole system.

Hood's Pills are the favorite family cathartic, easy to take, easy to operate.

Teachers' Institute.

The Montgomery County Teachers' Institute will convene at the Public School building in this city August 24, 1896. All teachers holding certificates are earnestly requested to attend. All persons interested in the cause of education are cordially invited.

J. W. Morris bought of John Allen 150 head of sheep at $2.55 per hundred. Average 94 pounds.

Mrs. R. A. Mason and Miss Nannie Donavan, of Escadido, are visiting relatives in this neighborhood.

W. B. Green & Co. shipped last week a car load of cattle to Cincinnati and report satisfactory sales.

T. C. Graves lost last week by lightning 10 head of sheep. Also Robert King a valuable family horse.

Misses Edna and Bernice Dooley of Bloomington, Ill., were visiting relatives in this neighborhood last week.

Mr. Sam. Stofor and Miss Emma McClure, both of Lexington, were visiting the family of A. W. Stofor last Sunday.

Mr. C. Howell attended the Cincinnati tobacco market last week and reports dull market. All tobacco put up in summer order is badly out of order on account of so much wet weather.

Rev. J. Rand, of Lexington, held his last quarterly meeting for this conference year at Grassy Lick on last Saturday and Sunday. Good congregation always greets Bro. Rand at this place.

The tobacco meeting that was held at Grassy Lick last week was well attended by the farmers. W. R. Dean was appointed chairman and W. H. Ramsey secretary. A committee was appointed and resolutions offered and adopted: That as the prices of tobacco had gotten below production, and with a large surplus of old tobacco still on hand, with the markets and manufacturers all crowded and one of the largest and best crops ever grown in Kentucky now ready to be housed, resolved that every tobacco grower would do all in his power to stop the production of said crop for the year 1897. A committee was appointed to meet other committees from the county in Mt. Sterling next County Court day at 1 o'clock p. m., to send delegates to Louisville to the State Convention called to meet August 25, 1896.

Heart Disease Kills

Suddenly, but never without warning symptoms, such as faint, weak or hungry spells, irregular or intermittent pulse, faintness or paleness of the face, choking sensations, shortness of breath, swelling of feet and ankles, etc.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Cures Heart Disease.

Dr. Geo. L. Smith, of the Geo. L. Smith Medical Co., Louisville, Ky., writes Feb. 26, 1894: "For about a year I was a terrible sufferer from heart trouble, which got so bad I was obliged to sit up in bed to get my breath. I had to abandon business and could hardly crawl around. My friend, Dr. Julius C. Voth, one of our leading pharmacists, asked me to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I had used little more than a bottle when the pain ceased and palpitations entirely disappeared. I have not had the slightest trouble since, and today I am attending to business as regularly as ever."

Foreign Notes.

All new German war ships are to be provided with arrangements for heating, lighting, and brown coal. The German brown coal mines are getting ready to meet the increased demand. British rifles fetch from 300 to 400 rupees on the Indian frontier. While the line for the soldier who loses his rifle is 100 rupees. The trade in rifles is, consequently, brisk across the border, while the reputation of the native thieves for ingenuity is kept high.

Maria Alphonse, whose supernatural experiences gave rise to the order of the Sacred Heart, having now been dead over 200 years, is a candidate for canonization. Cardinal Perraud has taken to Rome a petition signed by 270 Cardinals, Archbishops and Bishops begging the Pope to hasten on the necessary procedures. Shakespeare's identity with Bacon has been finally established (?) by George Cantor, of the University of Halle. He has found a Latin poem on the death of "the incomparable Francis Verulam," written by a friend of Ben Jonson's. In another place he has found Quintrine, which means spear wielder, which, of course, is Shakespeare, q. E. D.

Baron Hirsch's personal estate has been declared to belong to his widow as residuary legatee by the courts of Brunn: it amounts to 148,358,624 francs. Beside this there is the land property and the million left to the adopted daughter and another million to charities, which were deposited in court. There is a debt of 5,000,000 francs from a secret fund due to the estate. The Government taxes are secured by the three estates in Austria.

Among the vagrants caught on the recent raids on the Bois de Boulogne was a man who proved he had an income of 6,000 francs a year. He declared he had not slept under a roof in ten years, and that he could not breathe behind a shut door. He spent his days in the National Library, went to the theatre in the evening, then turned into the Bois or under a bridge to sleep. He kept trunk with clothes at a railroad station and went into the washroom there to change whenever he thought it necessary. The police say that he spends a great deal of money in charity. They had to release him.

Daughters of earls do not often commit suicide in England. Lady Mary Bligh, the 28-year-old daughter of the Earl of Darnley and sister of the Hon. Vis Bligh, a famous Oxford cricket captain, walked down to a pond on her father's estate, Cobham Hall, in Kent, took off her clothes except a combination garment, folded them neatly, then jumped into the water and drowned herself. The coroner told the jury that he "thought they would agree" that no lady in a state of sanity would divert herself or her clothing in the manner described. The evidence was that she had had bad headaches for some time previous and there are rumors of an unhappy love affair. She is described as being tall and very handsome.

Consumption Can Be Cured by the use of Shiloh's Cure. This great Cough Cure is the only known remedy for that terrible disease.

Predicts the United States Will Monetary Ideas.

American Goods Cost Double.

The Silver Standard Acts As A

Protective Tariff of Nearly 100 Per Cent.

AGAINST ALL KINDS OF IMPORTS

(Otto Hechelmann, a prominent business man and a native American writes this letter to the New York World.)

City of Mexico, July 23.—The writer is a resident and engaged in business in the city of Mexico. He was driven out of the great West of his native country—the United States—on account of the depression and misery brought about by the demonization of silver. He cannot refrain, therefore, from writing a few facts and figures to show that the great New York World has been misled about the effect of silver monometallism in Mexico.

No one can doubt the sincerity of The World, no one can question its Democracy nor fail to recognize the enormous power of a newspaper with over three quarters of a million circulation, for good or evil. None will deny the immense good you have done to humanity by your relentless war on trusts and monopolies and your exposure of crime, and that you are wavering on the great question of the day, eager to get at and impart the truth, is evident to every reader, but that your great influence will be swung into line before the close of the campaign in support of the Democratic nominee and platform is here predicted.

MEXICAN DOLLAR AT HOME AND ABROAD.

True, Mexico is to-day on a free silver basis, but instead of misery and depression she presents to the world a condition of conspicuous prosperity unprecedented in her history.

Her silver dollar is worth but 53 cents in gold standard countries, but that same dollar is worth 100 cents at home and buys as much of the native products of her soil as it ever did.

What has been the effect of the gold standard countries treating Mexico's dollar as bullion and refusing to receive it except at bullion value (fifty cents) to-day? It has increased her exports and decreased her imports. It has placed her on a basis of industrial independence. It has resulted in an influx of foreign capital to develop her immense interior resources. It has caused manufacturing, mercantile and other industrial enterprises to spring up all over the country, which have given employment to thousands of hitherto idle workmen and afforded them an opportunity to raise themselves from the level of a common Mexican peon and make mechanics, machinists, engineers and skilled artisans out of themselves, and it has afforded Mexico an opportunity to produce on her own soil such articles as these gold standard countries refuse to sell her, except at an enormous premium of 85 to 100 per cent, and she is silently taking advantage of it.

Has Mexico been clamoring for a recognition of international metal ratio with other countries? No. She quietly goes on in her march of progress and sells these gold standard countries more of her products than ever and buys less of theirs, and all this on a silver basis. Her mines are being opened. Smelters and mills are being erected to market her lead, iron, copper, silver and gold and her already great railroad system is being expanded to connect the Atlantic to the Pacific. Even such wealthy and shrewd American corporations as the great "Calumet and Hecla" Mining Company, with their forty-five millions controlled by an English syndicate, after paying dividends of a like amount, are now seeking to invest the bulk of this enormous capital in Mexico.

COST OF LIVING.

Does the New York World call this a picture of misery and despair?

Now, as to the prices of living, rent, etc., under the silver standard. A first-class hotel room can be had at the Jardin, Turbide, or Guardalup, three of the leading hotels in the city, at $1.50 per day and meals and meals at their respective restaurants at $1.50 per day, or $1 per day by the month. Cabs, of which there are three classes, the first, blue sign, $1 per hour; the second red, at seventy-five cents per hour, and the yellow, at fifty cents per hour, and everybody here who has got more sense than money takes a yellow bird and pays fifty cents per hour as per tariff rates, conspicuously posted in every cab.

Sugar, flour, corn, milk, eggs, meat, coffee and all similar articles produced in Mexico cost about the same as in New York, dollar for dollar. Sugar for instance costs eight cents a pound. On canned goods and all staples imported from the States and other gold standard countries, if the people here prefer them to home products, of course they have to pay the freight, duty and gold premium.

HOW POOR POLKS FARE.

In answer to another question The World says that it costs the Mexican laborer in the States. His wages on an average are lower, but I will prove to you that it costs him less and that he lives better.

The bread in Mexico is the "tortilla" made of corn. For 1 cent the laborer can get three fine hot tortillas the size of a big American pan-cake, enough for a meal. This tortilla is by no means to be found on the table of the poor alone, but the rich and President Diaz have them served regularly. The bean comes next. The good, wholesome, nutritious, brown "frijoles" cooked in any style, the laborer can get all he can eat for 2 cents. This is the potato of Mexico, and everybody eats them, including foreigners, and they wind up the meal at every hotel and restaurant in the city. For 3 cents the laborer gets enough meat to cook a fine sopa (soup), seasoned with vegetables and rice, (caldo), and after he has consumed that and wishes to be extravagant, 2 cents' worth of fruit will fill him up.

Coffee and milk are as cheap as in the States, but the laborer prefers and drinks pulque, the national drink of the country, and found on the table of the poor and rich alike. It is medicinal beverage of inestimable value in kidney diseases. For 1 cent a large glass, and if the laborer feels like getting on a spree, five glasses will put him to sleep for twenty-four hours. Put three glasses in front of a Mexican—one of pulque at 1 cent, one of beer at 10 cents and one of champagne at $1 and ask him to help himself and take his choice and he will jump at the pulque every time. He needs no luxuries imported from gold countries at 85 per cent. premium and wants none. Thus for 13 cents the laborer in Mexico can get a good wholesome meal and a jag thrown in, which the laborer couldn't get in the States for $13.

Are You Going?

It has just been officially announced that the North Atlantic Squadron, consisting of the big battleships, New York, Columbia, Maine, Indiana, Texas, Raleigh, Cincinnati and Monitor, and torpedo boats will meet in Hampton Roads at Old Point Comfort on August 10, for a rendezvous of some time. This will probably be the most noted gathering of warships under the American flag for some time.

A grand time is always looked for at these meetings. The ships' crews race with each other; rival band concerts, Marine drills, etc., to say nothing of the large complement of naval officers to add to the magnificent appearance of the ballroom.

The new "Chamberlain" hotel at Old Point Comfort announced that it will make a $25.00 per day rate to ex-soldiers on the Chesapeake and Ohio special August 11.

INDIGNANT

AT AN AUDACIOUS LETTER

An Indiana Man Replies to the Appeal of an Eastern Insurance Man.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 4.—Adolph C. Silverburg, of the legal firm of Gregory & Silverburg, is one of the many policy holders of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company in this city, who have received circular letters from Jacob L. Greene, of Hartford, Conn., President of the company, urging them to vote for McKinley and against Bryan and free silver.

Mr. Silverburg is a life-long Democrat, and thoroughly imbued with the cause of free silver, at the ratio of 16 to 1. He was so enraged at the audacious Mr. Greene that he immediately sat down and penned him the following red-hot letter:

A PERVERY REPLY.

"DEAR SIR: I am just in receipt of your extraordinary and exceedingly impertinent circular of July 14, 1896, addressed 'To the Policy Holders of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,' and believe that for audacity and unmitigated assurance it exceeds anything that has occurred in my limited experience.

"You say, in the circular, that you have asked me to protect the integrity and welfare of my family after I am dead, by putting into your hands certain sums of money saved from my annual earnings or other incomes, etc. You will permit me to say that you have never asked me to do anything of the kind. As a matter of fact, you came to me, by your agent, repeatedly, and tried, like any other merchant, to sell some insurance for a stipulated sum in the currency of the country—this country—not the currency of Great Britain—and I bought a small policy, only $1,000, just as I might have sought some other kind of merchandise, and I paid for it.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

"I know that the members of my family are too patriotic to want the policy paid in anything other than the currency of the country of which we are citizens. I went into your company as a business matter, and you have taken my money with the same purpose. You may be a very excellent insurance man—and from the amount of salary which you are said to receive I judge you are—but you are either an unpatriotic American, a poor politician or a very ignorant man.

"I hold several policies in a 'small' concern of New York City—the Equitable Life Insurance Society—and it has never been fit to advise me that I must be careful to vote one way or the other in order to make its contracts with me good. I understand the terms of your policy fairly well and only ask that you perform your part of it. With my vote or my political convictions you have absolutely nothing to do."

Instinct Not Always Faultless.

Many persons still believe that the instinct of animals preserves them from certain dangers, and that it injures them by anything that is injurious to them. Well instructed persons have long known that in this regard animals are no better off than men. A chicken does not hesitate to drink paint; a crow partakes of water in which bags containing nitrate of soda have been washed; ducks strangle and choke in swallowing snails.

M. Girard, veterinary at Barnevitz, now notes a fact that merits the attention of poultry farmers. He has observed numerous cases of poisoning in ducks following their feeding on caterpillars, especially those of the cabbage moth; these caterpillars are given to the fowls in mass or have been found on the cabbage leaves furnished them for food. After from six to twenty hours, according to the number of caterpillars eaten, poisoning manifests itself by loss of appetite, great weakness, tottering steps, accompanied sometimes by symptomatic movements, finally a difficulty of breathing and often death, after an agony of variable duration, during which the legs and claws grow pale.

The lesions disclosed by an autopsy confirm chlorea in an inflammation of the digestive passages. The disease is not always fatal—Cosmos.

You and Your Grandfather

Are removed from each other by a span of many years. He traveled in a slow going stage-coach while you take a lightning express or the electric car. When he was sick he was treated by old fashioned methods and given old fashioned medicines, but you demand modern ideas in medicine as well as in everything else. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine of to-day. It is prepared by modern methods and to its preparation are brought the skill and knowledge of modern science. Hood's Sarsaparilla acts promptly upon the blood and by making pure, rich blood it cures disease and establishes good health.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tipton returned Friday evening from Irvine. While there, Mrs. Tipton was taken very seriously ill, but is now very much improved. Mr. and Mrs. Tipton speak in terms of warmest gratitude of the kindness received at the hands of the noble people of Irvine, who came to the help of strangers in their midst. Mrs. Tipton was so ill her life, for a time, was almost despaired of, and, with an open-hearted kindness born of the spirit that pervaded the life of the Man of Galilee, the people of Irvine, with one accord, showed the strangers within their gates every attention possible. While heartily grateful to all, Mr. and Mrs. Tipton are under special obligations to Messrs Arch. and Wm. Snowden, Mr. L. S. Tuber (the landlord of the hotel) and family and Dr. Embury, who gave such faithful and intelligent service to his patient.

Salzer-Ferrell.

As the pendulum of time had ticked off the hours and the old town clock, was warning the citizens of Pikeville, that it was 9 p. m., Saturday, the gallant and popular lawyer and president of the Bank of Pikeville led to the altar the estimable and well known lady Mrs. Kentucky Ferrell, and the two were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. Mr. Hammett in an eloquent and impressive ceremony.

Mr. Salzer came from Morgan county to this place two years ago. He has proven himself to be a man of marked business capacity and a lawyer of keen perception, upright and honorable. Mrs. Salzer is a woman of fine sense and judgement and possessed of considerable wealth. She has always been kind and charitable to the poor and has long been a stimulus to the business enterprise of this town and county. She looked extremely handsome in a dress of airy white material as she entered the room leaning on the arm of the proud bridegroom, who was dressed in the conventional black. The delicious strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march were rendered by Mrs. Jas. Sowards.

The guests present were: Mrs. Rev. Hammett, Miss English Hammett, Mrs. J. M. Stator, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Sowards, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Sowards, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hatcher, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Flannery, Judge J. M. York, and Messrs Jas. Hammett, L. H. Lawson, R. C. Gardner, J. M. Bailey, C. C. Bowles, Trimble Leslie, R. T. Huffman, and the Editor of the Journal; and last but not least there appeared on the scene a host of small boys with tin pans and all manner of nooters, to receive their customary treat of candy.—Pikeville Journal.

The doctor may be a good old man but even so, medical examinations and the "vocal application" treatment are abhorrent to every modest woman. They are embarrassing—often useless. They should not be submitted to unless everything else has been tried. I nine cases out of ten, there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Tuvalid Medical Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It cures every form of "female weakness."

Big Cattle Deal.

The largest cattle deal made in Madison county this year was consummated in Madison county this week, when Simon Wiesel, agent for Nelson Morris, Chicago, purchased from Madison county parties over 300 fine fat export cattle for the English market. Of this number 100 were bought of James B. Parkes, 35 of M. H. Covington, 25 of Irvine White, 50 of John D. Goodloe, 25 of John A. Ballard, 20 of T. J. Smith, Sr., 65 of John B. Parkes, and 45 of G. E. Black. The average weight was from 1,400 to 1,700 pounds and the price paid was 4 cents, with the exception of one lot bought of T. J. Smith, Sr., at 3 1/2 cents. The entire lot represents a cash value of $22,140.—Richmond Register.

Money Made in a Minute.

I have not made less than sixteen dollars any day while selling Centrifugal Ice Cream Freezers. Any one should make from five to eight dollars a day selling cream, and from seven to ten dollars selling freezers, it is such a wonder, there is always a crowd waiting cream. You can freeze cream elegantly in one minute and that astonishes people so they all want to taste it and then many of them buy freezers as the cream is smooth and perfectly frozen. Every freezer is guaranteed to freeze the cream perfectly in one minute. Anyone can sell ice cream, and the freezer sells itself. My sister makes from ten to fifteen dollars a day. J. F. Casey & Co., 1143 St. Charles St., St. Louis, Mo., will mail you full particulars free, so you can go to work and make lots of money anywhere, as with one freezer you can make a hundred gallons of cream a day, or if you wish they will hire you at a salary. LILLIE B.

Hawesville is probably the only city in the world that is doing its best to grow smaller, says the Plaindealer. For some years the city limits have extended one mile, and a few days ago, in order to save expenses in road widening the Council had the limits drawn in so that they barely include the court-house on one side. The stroke has succeeded in turning a goodly portion of the city out to grass and causing it to be solidly Republican. 3-2t

Lightning's Deadly Work.

During the severe storm that visited this county Friday afternoon, Jo May a farm laborer was killed, his son severely, and two other men slightly shocked, on Charles Frazier's farm near Peyton's Lick. May and his son Jess, aged 20 years, with their companions had taken refuge in a large barn to escape the fury of the storm. All were standing leaning on a plank when the bolt came tearing out one end of the barn, and throwing all to the ground. The elder May was instantly killed. The top of the crown of his hat was torn out but not as abrasion made on the skin. The skin of his son's face was split from ear to ear the mark passing across the chin and he received enough of the fluid to make his condition a serious one. The other parties while so near to those injured were not much hurt.

Mr. W. T. Stokley announces himself as a candidate for Jailer of Montgomery county. Mr. Stokley is a young man who has spent 20 years of his life in this county and is known to our people. He appeals for the support of his friends in the party on his merits. He points with pardonable pride to the fact that he has never failed to vote and work for the nominees of his party; not once in all his life since he became a voter, has he failed to vote for every party nominee on the ticket. He has always been content to work in the ranks never having asked for office until now. Mr. W. T. Stokley is a son of the late Wm. Stokley, of Aaron's Run and married the daughter of T. N. Perry, of Spencer and his large family connection will give him a strong vote.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and laxative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at W. S. Lloyd's drugstore.

Found Dead in His Bed.

Mr. Obediah Dooley, aged sixty-three, a well known citizen was found dead in his bed last Tuesday morning at the residence of his brother-in-law John W. Wilson. Mr. Dooley retired the night before in his usual health and from his position when found his death was painless.

Thomas B. Reed, of Maude, late candidate for President before the Republican Convention, said in a speech the other day: "Two months ago no man of any standing would have risked his reputation as a prophet by hinting the slightest doubt of Republican success." To-day there are few men to be found willing to risk their reputations as prophets by hinting the slightest confidence in Republican success next November.

What a Woman Can Do.

Last week I cleared, after paying all expenses, $35.85, the month previous $200 and have at the same time attended to other duties. I believe any energetic person can do equally as well, as I have had very little experience. The Dish Washer is just lovely and every family wants one, which makes selling very easy. I do not canvassing. People hear about the Dish Washer and come or send for one. It is strange that a good, cheap Dish Washer has never before been put on the market. The Mount City Dish Washer fills this bill. With it you can wash and dry for a family of ten in two minutes without wetting your hands. As soon as people see the Washer work they want one. You can make more money and make it quicker than with any household article on the market. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman can make from $10 to $14 per day around home. You can get full information by addressing The Mount City Dish Washer Company, St. Louis, Mo. They help you get started, then you can make money awful fast. A. L. C.

Mr. H. C. Gillispie announces in this issue of the ADVOCATE as a candidate for County Court Clerk, of this county, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Gillispie is fitted for the position to which he aspires, is fifty years old and has never held an office in the county. He is a real Democrat, never above party, but always in its rank and file, a worker who could at all times be depended on. Mr. Gillispie announces in answer to a call from many friends, and while he is anxious for the nomination and believes the party will give it to him, should they confer the honor on another, he would be found in the ranks working just as hard for the success of his party.

Notice

All persons interested are notified that I have this day entered motion in the Montgomery County Court to be finally discharged as assignee of A. O. Redwitz, and said motion will be heard on the 3d Monday in September, 1896. Jas. W. Groves, Assignee A. O. Redwitz. July 27, 1896. 1-4t
